DETAILED ACTION

1. The preliminary amendment filed 3/11/2002 has been entered. Claims 1-31 are pending in this Office action.

Drawings

2. Figures 65-67 should be designated by a legend such as --Prior Art-- because only that which is old is illustrated. See MPEP § 608.02(g). Corrected drawings in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The replacement sheet(s) should be labeled "Replacement Sheet" in the page header (as per 37 CFR 1.84(c)) so as not to obstruct any portion of the drawing figures. If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Objections

3. Claim 1 is objected to because of the following informalities: Appropriate correction is required.

Regarding claim 1, line 5, the term, "said first equalization circuit" should be --said equalization circuit".

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

Art Unit: 2637

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

5. Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(a) as being anticipated by the admitted prior art (see Pages 1-10 (the specification) and Figures 65-77).

Regarding claims 1, 3, the admitted prior art of the record discloses a signal-processing circuit, comprising: a phase-locked loop circuit (Fig. 72) for receiving playback data (122) resulting from analog-digital conversion (an A/D converter 124B) of a playback signal from an equalization circuit (an equalization circuit comprising a first and second equalization circuits 124 and 127), wherein the equalization circuit is composed of a transceiver filter (124C).

Regarding claim 2, the admitted prior art also discloses the equalization circuit including means for performing adaptive equalization (an adaptive equalization circuit 127A).

Allowable Subject Matter

6. Claims 10-31 are allowed.

7. Claims 4-9 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

8. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: the admitted prior art fails to disclose or suggest a signal processing circuit comprising: sampling frequency of the first equalization circuit is made approximately equal to a channel clock frequency; a subsequent transfer characteristic of the equalization circuit is made equal to a product of a present transfer characteristic of the equalization circuit and present transfer characteristic of the second equalization circuit; and a subsequent transfer characteristic of the second equalization circuit is flattened; the digital signal output of the analog to digital converter is supplied to the digital phase locked loop circuit to fetch a detection voltage.

Conclusion

9. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Saiki et al (U.S. Pat. 5,872,666) disclose a decoder circuitry with PRML signal processing for reproducing apparatus.

Hase et al (U.S. Pat. 5,937,020) disclose a digital information signal producing circuit.

Hirasaka (U.S. Pat. 6,124,997) discloses a data reproducing apparatus.
